Conferences and events

We enhance your events and conferences by customizing every aspect to your specific needs. Our expertise extends to organizing both events and conferences in worldwide locations. We provide personal attention to ensure a direct translation into gatherings of any size.

As your single point of contact, we manage all the necessities for a valuable and complete event or conference. This includes logistics, venue arrangements, technical setup, and catering. Our team works closely with you to ensure every detail is covered, allowing you to focus on your core goals. We consider factors such as location benefits, sustainability, technological integration, and engagement to create an impactful event. We make sure you get the best available rates and highest level of service

Whether you are planning a large international conference or a small-scale corporate event, our goal is to make the process as smooth as possible. Our dedication to quality ensures that your event or conference will be successful and memorable.

Reverse invoice factoring and purchasing

The dependency on some smaller suppliers is low and volumes are limited. The total Non-Product Related (NPR) procurement, however, typically accounts for a larger volume than anticipated.

Fragmented indirect purchasing leads to minimal control, insight, and contract management. You don't always get the best price-quality ratio, and internal costs are high.

This is why we offer our clients a purchasing- and reverse invoice factoring service through CMPaid. One partner for all your small, incidental, or irregular purchases. We place orders, ensure the supplier is paid ASAP, and provide you with a clear VAT invoice.

Simplify your procurement today.
